

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An indexing system for tagging a media stream is provided. The indexing system includes a plurality of inputs for defining at least one tag. A tagging system assigns the tag to the media stream. A tag analysis system selectively distributes tags for review and editing by members of the collaborative group. A tag database stores the tag and the media stream. Retrieval architecture can search the database using the tags.